The Grumbler.

He sat at the dinner table
With a discontented frown;
The potatoes and steak were underdone
And the bread was baked too brown;
The pie was too sour, and the pudding too
sweet
And the roast was much too fat;
The soup so greasy, too, and salt,
'Twas hardly fit for the cat.

"I wish you could eat the bread and pie
I've seen my mother make;
They are something like, and 'twould do
you good
Just too look at a loaf of her cake."
Said the smiling wife: "I'll improve with age—
Just now I'm but a beginner;
But your mother has come to visit us,
And to-day she cooked the dinner."

MINDEN, FRIDAY, AUG. 12, 1892

PERSONAL.

Miss Kate McIntosh, of Toronto, is taking her holidays and spending her time
in visiting her parents in Minden village

Miss Sluman returned to Toronto on Wednesday last after spending a very pleasant holiday with her Minden friends.

Mrs. Young returned to her home in Minden on Tuesday, having had a very pleasant visit in the Queen City the past couple of weeks.

We were sorry to learn that Mrs. G.
Dickson of this village is at present suffering from severe illness, but hope she will soon be restored to health again.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKelvey, formerly of this village, are at present the guests of Mr. James Hobden of Minden township. Mr. McKelvey expects to go back to the lumber camp soon and to take a gang of men from this locality with him.

Mr. Sidney Gainer, of Fenelon Falls,
was a visitor with his parents Mr. & Mrs.
Robert Gainer this week and started for his home on Tuesday last accompanied by his sister Miss Annie Gainer, organist of St. Paul's Church, Minden, who will spend her summer holidays in Fenelon Falls.

Mr. Levi Hartle, son of Wm. Hartle
Esq., started for Dakota on Tuesday last,
where he expects to settle; having contracted Diphtheria some time ago in a lumber camp he suffered very severely from the after effects but is now fully restored
to strength and goes to push his fortune
in Dakota.

Mr. John Dawson, who for some time past has carried on a general store in this village has removed to Gelert, having rented the premises owned and formerly occupied by J. W. Watson Esq., now of Minden. We wish Mr. Dawson ample success in his new scene of labor and have no doubt he will be able to do a large and lucrative business in Gelert.

Mr. J. H. Delamere R. W. G. M., of the Provincial Orange Lodge of Eastern Ontario left this morning for Lindsay to attend the celebration of the anniversary of the closing of the gates of Derry which takes place to-day, when a large turn out of True Blues, Orangemen and Young Britons are expected to take part in the demonstration. M. W. G. M. N. Clarke Wallace M. P., is to be present as one of the speakers.

Mr. A. Simpson, the managing clerk
here for the Rathbun Co. last season,
made Minden a visit on Tuesday last
and his many friends were pleased to see him, we were glad to learn from him that Mr. Barry the clerk who had part of his foot cut off by the cars at Fenelon last spring is so far recovered from his severe accident that he expects to be able to come back here to go into camp with the Rathbun's men in the fall.

Mr. H. Dawkins, of Gravenhurst, accompanied by his son, made Minden a visit during the early portion of the present week. Mr. Dawkins claims that he was the first white settler in Minden Township, and while out on a holiday trip on the lakes, he made up his mind to visit his former home and see how many of his old acquaintances he would find here, but alas, how few they were,
so that the man who had spent so many years of his life here was almost a complete stranger to the present generation, altho Mr. Dawkins himself seems but in the prime of life, vigorous and intelligent,
in conversation with him name after name that he enquired about brought the answer of dead or gone West producing a very lonesome feeling upon the visitor who called upon nearly every person in the neighborhood of Minden that remained of his former acquaintances

many years the superintendent of St.
Paul's Sunday School has been compelled, owing to ill health, to resign his position; having two Sunday Schools to attend to each Sunday he finds the work too much for him.

VESTRY MEETING:—A special vestry
meeting of St. Paul's Church, Minden, was held on Monday evening last in Dr.
Curry's office for the purpose of recommending the carrying out of the sale of the church lot recently sold by the church wardens to Mr. Wright, and asking the clergy lands committee to have the sale
confirmed as speedily as possible.

WELCOME

HEAVY STORM.—The storm on Monday night last was the most severe of this unusually stormy season in this locality,
for several hours thunder, lightning
and tremendously heavy rain prevailed,
but we have not heard of any very serious consequences in this vicinity, beyond some crop being washed out of root
on the faces of the hills in several places and heavy grain being lodged. The Lightening struck the brick chimney on the store house owned by Mr. F. S. Burt of this village, & occupied by the Messrs Rathbun, just North of the village, the chimney was split the brick shattered and the electric fluid passing down the flue knocked down the stove pipes inside
the building melting some small holes in the pipes. In the telegraph office here
some of the brass work of the instrument was melted.

LATER

Since the above was written we learn that Dean's saw and shingle mill at Kin-mount was completely destroyed by fire, having been struck by lightning; the night watchman on duty in the building was temporarily stunned and the lantern
in his hand extinguished by the shock,
he reports that every shaft and saw in the building seemed to be simultaneously ablaze and the work of destruction was exceedingly rapid. A large quantity of lumber and shingles was also destroyed
in the conflagration and a dwelling house adjoining the rear of the lot shared the same fate. We have not heard as to the insurance on the premises.

VAST MINERAL RESOURCES.

How Ontario will Advertise her Great Natural Wealth at the World's Fair.

The World's Fair at Chicago will be the first exhibition that has ever done justice to the minerals of Ontario. Canada has been allotted 10,000 feet altogether for minerals, of which Ontario should have at least 4,000 feet, while 5,000 feet will be used if it can be obtained. These minerals come from all sections of the Province. From the immediate country north-east of Toronto comes lead, copper, iron, gold, marble, granite, mica, asbestos, and phosphate of lime. Then from Western Ontario comes gypsum, petroleum, marl, salt, terra cotta clay, and various kinds of building stone. Around Sudbury and on the north shore of Lake Huron are found rich deposits of nickel, copper and iron, while farther west again are silver, marble and lead; in fact these are found all over the northern portion of the Province.

A fact not generally known, even in the Province itself, but which this exhibit will fully show the world, is that in various parts of Ontario, such as Renfrew, Cornwall, Frontenac and some of the northern districts, the finest marbles and granites, grey, black, white and brown, to be obtained anywhere in the world are found.

Hon. A. S. Hardy, Commissioner of Crown Lands, is determined to have the mineral resources of this Province properly advertised to the world, and looks to the coming fair as Ontario's opportunity. By his direction every effort is being made to assist the Ontario Commissioner for the fair to secure a collection worthy of the Province, and which it is naturally well able to produce. The Echo will gladly receive and forward specimens from this locality.

Subscribe for the Echo; only $1.00 per year.

Jest by B. B. Osler, Q. C.

The action was brought for damages for non repair of highway, whereby the plaintiff was injured. Osler, Q. C., is cross-examining a small person as to the hole in the highway which occasioned the accident.

Q.—You are not a very good witness in matters of this kind?

A.—Why not, Mr. Osler?

Q.—Well, you keep your eyes on things above rather than things below.

A.—I certainly should, Mr. Osler.

Q.—However, perhaps this is not the case when you are walking on "holy" ground.

Holy is the key word of the joke. It means full of holes.

HAIR CUTTING & SHAVING PARLOR.—I am now prepared to cut hair and shave. Open every evening (except Thursday) from 7 to 10 o'clock; also Saturday afternoon. Don't forget the place, over the Echo Office, Main Street. Everything convenient. A call solicited. Yours &c., C. W. Richards.

Choosing a Partner.

"I suppose," said the old gentleman to the young fellow who had asked him for his daughter, "that you know my daughter has $25,000 in her own name?"

"Yes, sir, I've so understood," responded the applicant frankly.

"And you have nothing?"

"Not a copper."

"I suppose if she had been as poor as you are you would not now be asking me to let you have her?"

"No sir, I would not."

"Well now, young man," and the father's tone was not kindly, "don't you consider that sordid and mercenary and selfish?"

The young man shook his head.

"As a business man to a business man, he said, let me answer that by asking you if you needed money in your business and you had a choice of two partners, one poor and one rich, which would you admit to partnership?"

The old gentleman studied a moment and withdrew further objection.

The Avenue Girl.

Two pretty girls in all the bravery of their summer togery started to walk down Woodward avenue to see the sights, and finish up on a wild, delicious soda fountain glass of ginger ale.

"It's my treat to-day," said No. 1, as she turned her impecunious pocket inside out in the search for a dime.

Let's make it a Jersey treat—you pay for yours and I'll pay for mine, suggested No. 2.

I've thought of a scheme, suggested her friend. The one who makes the most bows shall treat. Let's count the people we meet who know us and count the bows we will have to make. That will be fun.

All right, answered the other, and they resumed their walk.

It was No. 1 who suggested the scheme and in a few minutes a gentleman passed the young ladies and raised his hat.

No. 2 bowed, but No. 1 looked as unconscious as a girl of marble.

Why, you know Charlie G—, don't you? asked No. 2.

Was that Charlie? But he bowed to you, answered No. 1, meekly.

Bow—bow—bow—they passed innumerable acquaintances, but never once did the blond-haired head of No. 1 incline itself. Her friend tumbled to the situation at last.

You've won, she said; come in and have a wowsy, all-round ginger ale, for you've earned it, but you have cut every friend you have in the city.

Oh, it'll be fun making up, answered No. 1, as she clutched her empty pocket and thanked her wits for getting her out of a scrape.

The Crafty Canvasser.

Polling Day. An enthusiastic partisan, in a carriage, meets an unmistakable Hodge and pulls up promptly.

Good day my man.

Good day to your honor.

Nasty wet afternoon, isn't it.

Nice rain, sir—nice rain.

Are you going to the poll?

Gwine to look round by'm-by.

Conservative, or are you Liberal?

Oh, any of 'em! I don't care who 'tis.

What! Don't you prefer one party to the other?

Oh, ah—it's as we finds 'em. We takes them as they takes us.

Quite so. Then you'll vote for the poor man's friend.

Sure enough.

The candidate who intends to give you a cottage, an allotment, and an old-age pension, and to save you from the workhouse.

That's it—that's it.

Then come with me, and vote for Sir George.

Oh! he's a clever 'un—he's a stinger.

What do you mean?

Why, sir, I hear Sir George speechifying over on the Green Toosday. There were only one chap as opposed him, and him ask what Sir George ever done for the agricultural laborer, and Sir George he ups that quick and calls him a two-headed sheep, he did.

That settled him. Lor', 'ow we did laugh.

Oh, he's a clever 'un, Sir George!

Ha, ha! you're right. Well, jump in here and I'll take you to the poll.

You haven't a bit of bacsy about ye?

No. But—some other time, perhaps—ahem!

Or a copper to give a poor old man?

Certainly not. We don't allow bribery nowadays. Jump in, I say, and I'll drive you down. By-the-bye, what is your name?

Hodge. Will'm Hodge.

Where do you live?

I live hereabout all my life.

Well, then, come a'long.

What for?

What for, man! Why, to vote for Sir George.

Hoo, hoo, hoo! Me vote for Sir George?

Y—, of course, what are you laughing at.

He, he, he!

Confound it, man! don't stand giggling there. Come along to the poll!

Me can't along to the poll! He, he, he!

Lor' b' b' y

Not go!

No-o-o!

This is the title of a 32 page pamphlet of information, containing answers to all the questions an inquirer would be likely to ask about books, instruction, salaries of stenographers, how to secure positions, etc., etc. It will show what young men have done at home on farms and in workshops; how from the humblest beginnings the highest success has been reached by learning this art at piece-meal study, and while pursuing other occupations. The success of stenographers as compared with the success of young men in any other vocation in life, will be seen to be marvelous and encouraging. The author of this system was himself a farmer's boy and learned the art while following the plow. The information he gives in this pamphlet will be of interest and value to every young man (or young woman either) who must earn their own living. The pamphlet is mailed for 5 one cent postage stamps to anyone writing for it and mentioning the paper in which this article appears.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT

THE battle of the British Political Giants goes steadily on, and it is expected that the Salisbury Government will resign to-day, and Mr. Gladstone be called upon by the Queen to assume the reins of government. Already there are signs of dissatisfaction among the Irish element, which constitutes Mr. Gladstone's majority, and should there be any serious defection it would annihilate the boasted Liberal majority which is composed of such a variety of elements that have no natural tenacity or sympathy with each other and are only held together by the hope of spoils expected to be obtained by the dissolution of the union of Great Britain and Ireland, and the new offices that would be created by the change. These offices are expected to be highly remunerative, and are looked forward to with a hungry eye by men who are now depending upon the contributions from American and Canadian Romanists for the sinews of war. We noticed a public announcement made yesterday that Arch. bishop McCleary sent the sum of four hundred pounds sterling the preceding day to Justice McCarthy "as a tribute toward the Irish Election Fund from the Archdiocese of Kingston." "Straws show how the wind blows."

The President of the Toronto University, SIR DANIEL WILSON DEAD

THE venerable, much esteemed and highly accomplished President of the Toronto University, Sir Daniel Wilson, L.L.D., passed over to the silent majority on Saturday last full of years and of honors well and worthily won. His death robs Canada of one of her most distinguished scientific men. The Toronto University loses an able and successful President and Lecturer, and the country one of its most prominent educationalists. The Church loses a staunch friend and supporter, and humanity mourns a philanthropist whose kindness of heart was proverbial and whose generosity was only bounded by the limit of his purse. Thousands of graduates to-day mourn his death as that of a true friend.

The Beadle

Coincident with the death of Sir Daniel Wilson, the President of Toronto University, and within fifteen minutes afterwards he was followed to that bourne whence no traveller returns, by the Beadle of the same institution, Sergt. McKim, whose genial voice and cheerful physiognomy was so familiar with the students attending the University since the grand pile was first erected in "Queen's Park," that he seemed part and parcel of the institution. The jokes and anecdotes of the Sergeant were proverbial and oft repeated by the students as standard Irish witticisms. Mr. McKim died, respected by all who knew him.

The Architect

SCARCE had the grave closed over the revered remains of the President ere the Architect of the University, W. G. Storm, Esq., was suddenly called by death and wrested from the arms of a loving wife and interesting family of young children. Mr. Storm's ability as an Architect was well known and universally admitted, the University Buildings being one of his masterpieces; he was also Architect of some of the most important public buildings that adorn the City of Toronto and are the admiration of her visitors. His sudden and unexpected death cast a shadow of grief over a very large circle of friends; and his funeral was attended by a large number of prominent engineers and architects of the city who mourn him as a brother.

MODEL SCHOOL:—The County Model School opens in Minden on Thursday, the first of September. All intending candidates for admission should make the necessary application without delay and all are expected to be present ready to commence their work on opening day.

FARM POULTRY:—This most valuable Poultry Journal is a regular visitor at our table and always a welcome one, it contains a large variety of useful and interesting matter for poultry raisers and fanciers; we can very heartily recommend it to those seeking information in this line. Subscription only 50 cents a year. Address Farm Poultry, 22 Custom House St., Boston, Mass.

THE WEATHER:—Owing to the rapid succession of severe rain and thunder storms the work in the hay fields has been greatly delayed in this locality, quite a large quantity of hay being yet out, some of which will be severely injured by the wet. Much of the heavy grain is reported as having been "lodged" by the rain storms, which will make harvesting more tedious and expensive to garner. Generally speaking the crops in this locality are excellent if not injured by the storms.

THE LAKE MAGAZINE FOR AUGUST.—The first number has been issued of a new high class Canadian magazine, published by The Lake Publishing Co. of Toronto. In its chaste and elegant appearance it rivals the best of its American contemporaries, while in the character and popular interest of its contents it scores a decided success. The magazine is devoted to politics, science and general literature, and purposes filling in some measure, in the discussion of public questions, the place filled in Britain and the United States by the leading reviews of these countries. The greater portion of the magazine will, however, be given to articles, fiction and poetry, similar in kind to the contents of the best literary monthlies. The political articles will be contributed by leading statesmen and writers of both political parties, and appearing under the names of the individual writers as full and exhaustive discussions of timely topics of public concern, will possess unusual interest and value: in fact no intelligent student of political affairs can afford to neglect reading them. In the present number are articles on Canada and Imperial Federation, Edward Blake and Ireland, a Cheap and Simple Franchise, from the pens of leading Canadian journalists, and also articles on The Land of Manana, A Canadian Literature, Second Sight Along the Wires, Art in Canada To-day, The Doctrine of Handicaps—all interesting and well written. Two stories and two poems of superior merit, in addition to a number of illustrations complete the list of contents.

HARDY CHERRIES

To Nurserymen and Fruit Growers:

An important feature in connection with the Horticultural work, during the past few years, at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, has been the testing of hardy forms of the Morello Cherry, recently imported from Eastern Europe. A number of these low growing, partially dwarfed varieties have been in bearing the past two years and give evidence of unusual hardiness, vigor and productiveness. This apparent hardiness of tree united in many instances with good quality of fruit, renders it advisable that they should be disseminated at as early a date as possible, especially in the interests of the fruit growers in the colder parts of the Dominion.

In order that Nurserymen and Fruit growers may have an opportunity of testing them without delay, a selection including the most desirable varieties has been made, of which buds for immediate propagation are now available, and will be distributed under instruction of the Hon. The Minister of Agriculture free of charge, on receipt of the application by the undersigned.

Applications should be addressed to the HORTICULTURIST, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. These will be filled in the order in which they are received, as far as it is possible to meet the demand, using our best judgment in selecting suitable varieties for the various sections.

Care should be taken to preserve the names, so that a record of the behaviour of each variety can be secured for the purpose of future comparison. Mayhale, is probably at present the best available stock upon which to work these buds. In the absence of this they may be set upon stocks of Massard, Bird Cherry, (Prunus Pennsylvanica) or the Common Red Cherry, with a fair degree of success.

JOHN CRAIG,
Horticulturist.

Old But Good

Mr. B. B. Osler was minutely distributing to the Court of Appeal the method in which a certain house was lifted from its position and transferred elsewhere. The Chief Justice with his usual desire to master detail, plied him
with questions.

"And Mr. Osler, on what did you say he raised it?"

"On four jacks, my Lord."

The C. J. tumbled to the joke. On the other three learned judges the metaphor was lost.

Afraid of Mighty D'Alton

At Barrie Assizes some time ago, a rugged Irishman had just given his evidence in chief, and Mr. D'Alton Mc-Carthy, Q. C., was about to open his fire of cross-examination. The learned and not a little dreaded Q. C., was slowly advancing towards the box, adjusting his gown and clearing his throat
as he advanced. The witness realized what was in store for him; he turned to the judge and said:

"Yer Honor, ivery world I have been sayin' is the God's truth an' if I say anything else when Mr. McCarthy is talkin' to me, it will be a cursed lie."

MR. EDITOR.
DEAR SIR,—We noticed in your paper
a few weeks ago from Wilberforce calling that wonderful place the garden of Halibur-ton county, but sir, we think that correspondent had not seen this part of the county or he would have written differently. If you would like to see a beautiful garden, as he calls it, just step over here to our village and we will introduce you to some of our leading men. We will call on C. Way, hotel keeper and post master, the next is J. W.
Gould of the Grand Central Hotel, then comes the general store kept by M. Johnston Esq., from here we can see the private residence of Mr. R. Davie, the next place of importance is that of J. J. Hunter's grist and saw mills; Mr. Hunter employs a good many men cutting lumber and timber for the I.B.
& O. Railway. Now we see the general store kept by S. O. Hadley Esq., here we take a walk through the gardens, we will introduce you in the Raby settlement, here, Mr. Editor if you do not look out and are not careful you might get lost in the large old fields. Mr. John O. Tindle has a fine crop of fall wheat that stands as high as a man's shoulders also peas and oats that measure about 6 ft. A. McCall Esq., has a fine crop of grain that would be hard to beat.
We expect to have the I.B. & O. cars running through here in a few days as the grading of the road is carried on rapidly now. We understand that the company intends reaching the Monmouth mines this fall. Not wishing to take up any more space in your valuable paper I will close.

We, the publishers of "North American Homes," in order to increase the circulation of our journal throughout the United States and Canada, will spend this year over one hundred thousand dollars among our new subscribers in the form of an artistic Crayon Portrait and a handsome frame (as per cut below), to be made free of charge for every new subscriber to "North American Homes." Our family journal is a monthly publication consisting of 18 pages, filled with the best literature of the day, by some of the best authors, and is worthy of the great expense we are doing for it. What the proprietor of the N. Y. World has accomplished we feel confident of doing ourselves. We have a large capital to draw upon, and the handsome premiums we are giving you will certainly give us the largest circulation of any paper in the world. The money we are spending now among our subscribers will soon come back to us in increased circulation and advertisements. The Crayon Portrait we will have made for you will be executed by the largest association of artists in this city. Their work is among the finest made, and we guarantee you an artistic Portrait and a perfect likeness to the original. There is nothing more useful as well as ornamental than a handsome framed Crayon Portrait of yourself or any member of your family; therefore this is a chance in a lifetime to get one already framed and ready to hang in your parlor absolutely free of charge.
